VINEBURG NEWS ITEMS

"Easy Jim" Tells in an Interesting Way all About the Week's Happenings in and About His Section of the Valley.

Where is Jupiter Pluvius?

Miss Katie Bosch returned to her home here Saturday evening after a two-week's visit with San Francisco friends.

Walter Bundschu of Rhinefarm transacted business in the metropolis the fore part of the week, returning home Monday evening.

Our young friend, Cedric Cutler, has a splendid voice, but Miss Minnie Madden is afraid he will ruin it if he sings too early in the morning. Get wise, Cedric.

Miss Marie Mitchell returned to her "Oak Leaf Cottage" home on the Hyde tract, Monday evening, after an enjoyable visit with relatives in the exposition city.

We regret to state that Douglas Church, one of the oldest residents of this section of the valley, is lying very ill at his home near here. All hope for his speedy recovery.

Lovely weather this, but some people, in fact a great many people, would like to see some rain, which has been holding off too long to suit our agriculturists who do not live entirely off of climate.

We cannot conceive why some of our people visit the Cliff House, San Francisco, to watch the sea lions when they can "see Lyons" right here in Vineburg any Sunday afternoon.

Three straight carloads of merchandise were kicked into Batts' spur Sunday morning. There was one carload of alfalfa hay, one of 425 sacks of wheat and one of feed. Stock and chickens must be fed at this time of year as well as at other times.

Dan Cupid is inclined to be very busy in this burg and vicinity at the present time and we learn that our worthy Mayor will shortly turn the diamond handspring and wed a Vineburg damsel. Why not? It is said that the only thing that stands in the way is his beard. We would suggest that his honor sacrifice those whiskers and win the lady.

Harry Andrieux of Wingo visited here Sunday.

Messrs. W. T. Ross and John Murray, two solid citizens of this burg, accompanied by their families, enjoyed an auto ride through the northern part of the county Sunday.

It certainly did take a bunch of mechanics to fix that automobile which got out of gear near Pleasant Villa on Sunday afternoon. Oh, you Louie! How much did you win—the ladies or the cash?

Louis Rouquie, the manager of Vineyard Villa, accompanied a party of his guests from the metropolis on a quail hunt in the Napa valley, one day last week. The guests report having had a fine time and bagged the limit.

Three well-known sportsmen of this place went on a hunting trip Wednesday last in the foothills. Sure, they took their guns, ammunition and lunch with them, but some how forgot their bottle of cough medicine. Good thing for the bottle but a bad thing for the cough.

Steve Griffith of this place has a fine mare, but she has no ear for music. The other day when near the Sonoma school house the animal heard the beating of a drum and became extremely nervous. Steve came out of the mix-up alright, but the buggy got an awful shock.

Vineburg, Nov. 23, 1911.

Easy Jim: Now, you must admit that Sunday was an ideal day, so some of us girls made an auto trip to Petaluma, Santa Rosa and other places. We had a fine time and saw a number of the prominent citizens of Sonoma, among whom we noticed Mayor Cummings, T. O'Connor, Sam Lewis, the meat king, and several others I didn't know. I expect to meet them again on Thanksgiving eve at the grand ball to be given in Union Hall by the Y. M. I. Always Yours, Viola Vineburg. To EASY JIM.

Hay Market Situation

Somers & Co., in their weekly report thus summarize the condition of the hay market for the week ending the 21st inst:

"Receipts of hay for the week have amounted to about 2300 tons, a material decrease over the week previous when there were 3456 tons marketed. Considerable of the arrivals consisted of alfalfa, although there was a great deal less alfalfa came in during the week than for some time past. From now on we may expect still smaller quantities of alfalfa to arrive, as the river district is practically cleaned up and alfalfa brought from the interior can be purchased only at materially higher prices and so we now quote the alfalfa market as being materially higher than it has been during the season and, if the present heavy consumption continues which probably will be the case, we will experience still higher prices.

"Grain hay trade, although quiet in San Francisco, is active throughout the interior of the State and prices higher. The city market is firm and all in touch with the situation predict that we will very soon see a higher range of prices. That we need rain in the great valleys of the State is conceded everywhere and the cold weather which has been prevalent has and will increase the consumption of hay, for there is no green feed in the State and now there is practically no chance of there being any winter feed on account of the lateness of the season. A warm rain with warm weather thereafter will of course start the grass, but this can hardly be expected at this time of the year and, in all probability there will be no green feed until spring. This condition of affairs increases greatly the consumption of hay and even now owners of hay are asking higher prices, some refusing to sell at all on account of the fact that they require their hay for home consumption or anticipate higher prices later on. With the exception of the last few years the San Francisco market regulated the price of hay throughout the Northern and Central part of the state but recently local prices have been small factor in determining the general market, for the consumption of hay in the interior has increased to such an extent that the market is determined by interior conditions and not by trade as it exists in San Francisco and points adjacent."

Psychological Time is at Hand. "The people of California and the men of the Southern Pacific have had their misunderstandings in the past. Some of our moves have been criticized, but time has shown that what was done was for the permanent good of the state. To-day, I am glad to say that there is a better spirit shown on both sides. Now is the psychological time to get together for the interests of all.

"I am a Californian first and a Southern Pacific man second. My home is here and it is highly gratifying to me that Californians are coming to a realization of the fact that the Southern Pacific has the state's best interests at heart. California has produced the greatest railroad men in the world. She has sent them to the East and other parts of the West, and they have made good wherever they have gone. They have built roads where other men have said roads could not be built. First to Search World for Men. "Our railroad was the first to send its agents to Europe to seek out the best men and bring them to California to make their homes. We brought winemakers that planted vineyards and helped build up the great grape industry of the state. We brought fruit growers and other tillers of the soil.

"A conservative estimate of the number of families we have brought into California is over 250,000," said Mr. Fee. "Government statistics show that each family is worth $3,000 to the commonwealth in which it resides. That means that we have added from this source alone $750,000,000 to the state's resources, because these were permanent residents.

Railroad Increases Land Values. "There are in this state millions of acres of land that will grow just as beautiful crops as any land in the state, but there is lack of people to thoroughly till the soil. The lands of California that to-day are worth as high as $1,000 an acre were not worth more than $5 a comparatively few years ago. It is the railroads and the speedy transportation that they give, together with increasing population, that have increased their value. The people of California are coming to realize that this is true, and that the partnership that exists between its people and its railroads is really a close one, and that co-operation is needed to obtain the best results.

"When the double tracking now being done by the Southern Pacific railroad is completed we will have the longest stretch of double track of any railroad in the world," continued Mr. Fee, "and it will give to California practically express service for all their freight to the east. Our lines in the state radiate in many directions, and we are thus enabled to bring the furthestmost parts of the commonwealth into close touch with the great markets not only of California but of the east and the world.

Southern Pacific Boosts California as Home State.

"California has room for every man who will work."

"Charles" Fee, Californian first and passenger traffic manager of the Southern Pacific railroad company second, thus summarized the spirit of California in a recent conversation with a group of business men of the state. Advancement of the interests of the land of sunshine and dollars to the pinnacle among the other states of the nation to which she is properly entitled was the subject that had brought the men together.

"Development of the community spirit among the people of the state until they present one solid front is needed to secure the best results," said Mr. Fee, "and that is what we all must strive to bring about. We men of the Southern Pacific have learned, as have thousands of others in California, that advertising is the best way to secure men of brains and brawn, who have a little capital, to come here and settle. And we also have discovered that one of the best ways to advertise for the right sort of men is at the Land shows like those held in Chicago and Omaha.

"The results obtained at these exhibitions last year are sending us back there this fall, and we want to take California with us. Not as she went last year, in scattered communities, but as a united state. We have proved the results to be obtained. Now we intend to reap the harvest, and California will reap it with us. The railroad will be represented by lecture halls, where we will set forth by lecturers in lay novel picture and stereoscopic the advantages to be gained from a residence here.

Interests Same as Those of State. "There is a very natural reason for this. Our interests are identical with those of every person in the state in the prosperity of California and Californians lies our prosperity. Of course we increase our business, but it is only by increasing the business of the people of California that we can increase ours. Our property is here just as is that of other men and women. Many of our stockholders live here. We want all California to prosper because we are Californians. The man who owns a two-room cottage and makes his home there with his family is no more interested than we, for we pay taxes just as he does, so it is only natural that we want the state to prosper.

"We have for years been actively furthering the interests of California by far-reaching advertising campaigns throughout the East and abroad. Millions of pieces of literature have been placed in the hands of interested people and thousands of pictures have been hung in conspicuous places throughout the country. Photographs are printed in great numbers for use in illustrating special articles about California. We are at the present time supplementing and emphasizing our other advertising work by keeping a corps of lecturers constantly in the field. Such special occasions as these offer communities along our line a splendid opportunity to gather up the results of the work we have done, and the interest we have aroused. I cannot too strongly urge the fact that every community wanting new residents and hastened development should have specific and energetic representation at the Chicago Land Show.

"Let us get together, pool our resources and tell the world in convincing fashion what we have. Our lecture halls at the land show will be thrown open to Californian communities free of all cost. Back your lecturers up with moving picture films and stereoscopic views and you will be surprised at the results. Last year 77,000 persons heard our lecturers. This year 100,000 will listen.

"Every business man in California should have on his stationery the line 'California has room for the man who will work.' Make that our slogan and pound it into every man we can reach. Then get together with the Southern Pacific and show what team work between real Californians can do and we will people the state with men and women—that will be a credit to us, add to our own as well as their wealth and help boost California to the topmost round on the ladder of success."

The Employers' Liability Law.

During the next year or so the average citizen of California will slowly awake to the fact that he is now faced by conditions that will appear to him to be the last word of injustice and oppression. His surprise will be intensified when he realizes that those conditions were created by his own deliberate vote and that he himself is responsible for a situation full of the financial dangers that can be neither foreseen nor prevented.

The Employers' Liability law was passed in the full light of day. It was open to every voter in the state to ascertain what the legislature was doing and to enter its protest. Every voter in the state knew, or might have known, that there was no limits to the acquiescence of the legislature in every crazy scheme demanded by the few noisy demagogues who call themselves the people. But there were no protests against the Employers' Liability law. At least there were none that were effective, and it now remains for the voter to discover for himself what the law really means, and how sharp the knife that he has laid to his own throat.

The new law makes the employer responsible for all accidents that may happen to those who take their pay. There we have the whole thing in a nutshell. It does not matter why the accident happens or how it happens, the employer is liable for whatever losses may ensue to the employee. Even though the wage-earner is doing something in direct disobedience to orders and the accident results from such disobedience, it makes no difference at all. The wage-payer is responsible. The domestic servant who lights the fire with kerosene and burns herself may claim full damages. If she herself is killed a judge will assess the value of her life and the householder must pay that value even though it ruin him, as it probably would. The man who spends a few minutes in cutting the grass plot in front of the house and who cuts his foot as well as the grass, may take his enforced holiday with a quiet mind. Whoever hired him will pay the doctor's bill and whatever value may be placed upon the wounded foot. He may even deliberately cut his foot if the owner of the grass plot seems to be rich enough to make him a desirable victim of extortion. No one who employs labor of any kind can be certain that at any moment he may not be ruined for life by some accident to a servant even though the accident was due to gross carelessness or to rank disobedience. Certainly the situation of the average householder whose servant was killed while lighting the fire with kerosene—and nearly all servants do this—would be a ruinous one. He would be ruined under the new law for which he practically gave his vote and that was passed by legislators whom we may suppose charitably had never even read it. It bore the union label and that was enough.

There is just such a law as this in England, and like all laws of its kind it has been a source of serious mischief to the worker. The man who employs five hundred workmen must take out five hundred policies of insurance, and it need hardly be said that the workers pay the premiums, directly or indirectly. He must take out another policy for his cook, another for his housemaid, one for his gardener, for the boy who runs his errands and who may lamentably injure himself while throwing stones at the neighbor's hens. There are insurance men in England who will attend to all such matters, but it need hardly be said that the workers pay the premiums in the long run while the workman who has been compensated for an accident is reasonably sure never to meet with another accident, and for the simple reason that he will never again be employed. But there are no insurance companies in California that will handle such business as this. There is no protection here for the employer, whether the employer be the owner of a factory or a struggling widow who employs a girl to help with the housework. If the girl in her enthusiasm for kerosene should destroy the furniture as well as burn herself the aforesaid widow must stand the loss of her home and actually compensate the girl for the results of her own folly. Anything more outrageous it would be hard to imagine or anything more crassly stupid.

A demonstration of the working of this idiotic law will be more effective than any amount of argument. The mind of the modern reformer is not constructed to understand arguments or to entertain ideas but an appeal to his pocket will do wonders. The Employers' Liability law seems to be aimed at the "bloated capitalist" and was therefore welcome. It appeared to be aimed at those unworthy citizens who happen to own a little money and who therefore have no rights. There may be change of sentiment when it is found to be a sword hanging over the heads of practically every one who pays wages to another for services rendered. But in the meantime it remains a law. Either it must be neglected and so bring an added contempt upon law in general or it must be enforced and so inaugurate a sort of reign of terror upon employers everywhere. Its effect in increasing the general sense of insecurity can hardly be measured. And insecurity means bad trade.—ARGONAUT.

He expresses great satisfaction that Sonoma has a rock crushing plant and that our people are waking up to the importance of good roads.

Spreckels Green House Catches Fire

The Poultry Show which opens at Petaluma on December 7 promises to be one of the most interesting exhibitions that has ever been held in this section of the state. This year the exhibit will be confined to poultry alone, and pigeons and their allied species that heretofore have been shown in what was termed a "full show," will be excluded.

Serious Accident

A serious runaway accident happened last Wednesday in this place in which Mrs. Debat of El Verano, was badly injured. While driving into town in a two-seated surry, being accompanied by Mrs. Crane and Miss Vincent, the shafts broke nearly opposite the Union stables. This frightened the animal and caused him to runaway. The surry was tipped over and the three ladies occupants were hurled violently to the ground. Mrs. Debat had one side of her face fearfully torn and lacerated, while the other ladies were more or less bruised about the body. Dr. Leix attended to Mrs. Debat's injury, taking six stitches across her face which was cut to the bone.

No Service Sunday

No church service will be held at the Congregational church on Sunday next, owing to the absence of the pastor, who has been called to Ferndale on the account of the serious illness of his brother-in-law Joseph Hansen.

Sunday school and Christian Endeavor meeting will be held as usual.

Application Turned Down

There was a special meeting of the City Trustees last Thursday to consider the application of J. F. O'Brien & Co., sewer contractors, for the final payment of $2000 due them on their contract for putting in Sonoma's new sewer system. The Board after taking the matter into consideration concluded the final payment at this time as immature and laid the whole matter over until the next regular meeting in December.

No Complaint Filed With Trustees

It has been rumored about town the past week that the saloon license of G. Vaniere, the landlord of the Venezia Hotel on Spain street, has been or would be revoked by the Board of City Trustees. We are credibly informed that no complaint against Vaniere has been so far made to the Trustees, but that one is being prepared to present to that body at its next regular meeting.

The daily Call, Examiner or Chronicle and Index-Tribune only $9 per year for both papers.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS OF INTEREST.

SONOMA OFFICIALS VISITING ALAMEDA

Inspect Streets and are Interested in Oiling Process

Alameda was honored Monday by a visit from the city council of Sonoma City, here for the purpose of inspecting the city's streets. V. M. Frodden, street superintendent, showed the visitors about the city in his automobile, pointing out the places of interest and explaining the manner of application of the local oiling process, which is considered one of the finest methods in the world.

Councilman E. B. Bullock showed the party about the city hall. Those in the party were Mayor M. E. Cummings, trustees John Wagon, L. Quartaroli, Charles Dal Poggetto, Otto Wagner, Adam Adler and Henry Bates.—Alameda Times-Star.

Woman's Club Notes.

The special feature at the Woman's Club meeting on Friday of last week was a paper read by Mrs. Burlingame, but prepared (by request) by Dr. Platon Vallejo, giving a sketch of the early days of Sonoma and also a number of reminiscences of his own childhood days, the central figure being always that of his illustrious father, General M. G. Vallejo. The paper was not only keenly interesting but also of much future value to the historian. This being so, it was decided to ask Dr. Vallejo's permission to have two copies made, one of which shall be placed in the Sonoma public library and the other with the History and Landmarks Committee of the State Federation of Woman's Clubs.

The music of the afternoon was extremely enjoyable—some songs by Miss Stofen, and two piano duets by Misses Mary Pinelli and Amelia Ciucci.

Tea and cakes were served by the afternoon's hostess, Miss Kate McDonnell.

The members of the club are urged to be present at next Friday's meeting, as the very important matter of purchasing a lot is coming up for discussion. Another feature of interest will be the reports by Mrs. R. P. Hill of the District Federation Meeting at San Mateo, a gathering of unusual significance; and also of the Rural Education Conference at Davis, which she likewise attended. Both of these reports will be full of important and timely suggestions. The meeting will begin sharp at 2:30 p. m.

WOULD WRECK THE BREWERY

The John Steiner Suit For Salary is Now Followed By Another to Foreclose on a $3,500 Promissory Note

A few weeks ago John Steiner, ex-promotor, director, manager and President of the Sonoma Brewery Co., Inc., resigned, and then sued the company for $739.50, alleged amount due on salary. Now, comes Joseph Keechler, who began an action in the Superior Court on Monday against the same company to recover the sum of $3,500 on a promissory note dated June 6, 1910, executed by Steiner.

Among the defendants named in the suit are H. H. Granice, Chas. Dal Poggetto, F. Nichelini, A. Beretta, John Steiner, Frederick Leix, August Rouque, Joseph Felder, A. Froment, John Batto, Fred Batto, John Batto & Sons, Inc., Norman J. Heggie, G. Proletti and the Wittenman Co. Inc. These parties hold a second mortgage of $21,600 on the property hence they are made defendants to the suit. Robt. A. Poppe is the attorney for the plaintiff. We reiterate that these suits will in no wise interfere with the business of the brewery which is here to stay.

Entertainment and Fair

An entertainment and fair will be given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church in Union Hall on Friday evening, December 1st. A farce will be staged entitled, "Scenes at a Union Depot," to be presented by local talent.

The various booths at the fair will be presided over by the following ladies:

Fancy Table—Mrs. Henry C. Wicker. Ice Cream—Mrs. Amelia Bates. Clam Chowder—Mrs. Fred T. Dobbie. Coffee—Mrs. H. F. Bates. Fortune Telling—Mrs. Richard J. Keogh. Grab Bag—Mrs. Henry C. Weber.

In connection with the entertainment and bazar there will be a grab bag representing a large pocket of grandma's apron.

Admission, adults, 35 cents; children 20 cents.

Forty Defendants in Action to Quiet Title.

There are something like forty defendants in an action to quiet title bought in the Superior Court Monday. Charles Stornetta is the plaintiff and Peter H. Thompson et als., are the defendants. Plaintiff claims to be sole owner of a part of the Huichica Rancho and alleges that any right, title or interest claimed in the property by the defendants is not tenable as he is the owner and all title must be in him. Lippitt & Lippitt are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

THE GRANGERS AND RURAL EDUCATION.

Members of the Glen Ellen Grange and Club Women Discuss the Rural School Question

At an open meeting of Glen Ellen Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, held last week, the principal subject which came up for discussion was "Rural Education."

Mrs. Robert Potter Hill introduced the subject with a splendid paper pleading for agricultural teaching in the schools and for better school houses—more home-like and attractive. Andrew Erickson favored the lines suggested by the previous speaker.

Robert Potter Hill spoke in favor of commercial courses in the schools. Thomas Johnson took the stand that under our present educational system agricultural training would not be satisfactory, as the child's brain is already overcrowded.

As a remedy he suggested a consolidation of schools, saying that there are too many small schools. A consolidation of schools, he said, would mean more teachers and two grades at least. He favored agricultural training by means of a district instructor who should visit each school once a week and give such instruction, coming at regular intervals so the scholars would anticipate his visits.

Edward B. Payne thought the children should be taught things their minds inclined to.

Mrs. P. N. Slofen of Sonoma favored the plan of consolidated schools.

The discussion was both interesting and instructive and at its conclusion refreshments were served.

The Good Roads Committee

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as without fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Free., Buffalo, N. Y.

DINING IN NORWAY.

A Feast That Somewhat Bewildered an American Woman.

An American woman whose European wanderings last summer included Norway was lucky enough to receive an invitation to a formal dinner in the latter country. She tells the story of the dinner, beginning with the throwing open of the doors at 8 o'clock.

"As the chief guests of the evening," she says, "we were forced to precede the eighty others, and as the signal was given we found ourselves impelled forward, the ladies flocking behind while the gentlemen remained seated in the great drawing room.

"Then we were confronted with a serious problem—what to do. None of us knew, for facing us were three substantially covered tables with no chairs before them. Then appeared a guardian angel who whispered, 'Do as I do,' and with that she began helping herself.

"Piles of plates, napkins, knives and forks appeared at intervals down the table, and, taking one of each, we fled back to the drawing room from which we had come, where in the meantime the servants had arranged many small tables. We seated ourselves with our impedimenta, only to find that the gentlemen in turn had disappeared and were comfortably seated in the dining room, having first choice of the various dishes which were afterward presented to us.

"First there was a delicious soup with forcemeat balls floating in it; then a bewildering variety of made dishes, but potatoes were the only vegetables offered. The chief waiter took us in charge and often took our forks from our hands in order to transfer to our plates some specially dainty tidbit from the dish he carried.

"Course followed course of these made dishes, and these were followed in turn by an almost equal variety of puddings and cakes. There was no pastry, but the cakes and puddings were marvels of richness and delicacy. Norwegian cream is like Alderney cream, thick and golden, and this was used in great profusion, likewise eggs, often twenty to thirty being required in the making of a single pudding, and an American housewife would throw up her hands at their lavish use.

"Various wines accompanied the dinner, and shortly after the feast began the host proposed a toast after having first drunk 'Velkommen' to all, and then, our names being given, with 'Velkommen til Norge,' or 'Welcome to Norway,' followed by a seemingly interminable list embracing all the guests.

"At the end everybody advanced to the hostess and shook hands, saying, 'Tak for maden,' or 'Thanks for the repast,' and in turn received the answer, 'Vel bekommen,' or 'May it agree with you.'

"Then, like Chinese mandarins, everybody bowed to everybody else, and when coffee was served it was the same, and at last came the farewell with the never to be forgotten form, 'Tak for idag,' or 'Thanks for today.' Following the dinner came many national games in which the old and young joined; then at midnight a supper of sweets and ices, fruit and coffee was served, and the adieu was made at a late hour with the accompanying thanks and finally a last good night or 'Tak for sidst.'—Epicure.

John's Blunder.

A minister in Scotland who was making a call the other week upon a member of his flock whom he had not seen at church for some time asked, "What's come over you that I don't see you at church at all now?"

"Hoot, man, ye'll no' ha' seen me because I sit aint the pillar."

"The pillar, John? Good gracious, the pillar! Why, it is two years since it was removed from the front of your seat."

He Got the Pin.

A fat man stooped to pick up a pin in Herald square, New York, and lost his balance. An indulgent motorman, unwilling to run over the prostrate form, brought his car to a sudden stop at a place where the power rail was cut, and a bystander figured that for five minutes there was a blockade of 100 trolley cars, fifty automobiles and taxicabs and several thousand people. The man got the pin.

Smart Boy.

"Want a situation as errand boy, do you? Well, can you tell me how far the moon is from the earth, eh?"

Boy—Well, gov'nor, I don't know, but I reckon it ain't close enough to interfere with me runnin' errands.

He got the job.—Christian Register.
